BILL ASKS FOR SINGLE COURTS

Measure Providing For Division of Sixteenth Judicial Circuit is Introduced in Legislature.

WOULD MAKE RUSH SEPARATE

This Would be Known as Sixty-Fourth Judicial Circuit--Deals With Attaches.

Representative Billman of Shelby county yesterday introduced a bill in lower house of the legislature in Indianapolis providing for the restoration of the Marion superior court, which has been held at Shelbyville during circuit court vacation, to Marion county, and the slicing of the sixteenth judicial circuit into two circuits making Rush and Shelby county separate courts.

This is as a majority of attorneys desired it should be. When the agitation for separation of the two courts in the sixteenth judicial district was started a few months ago, it was proposed that Franklin be taken out of the circuit with Union and Fayette counties and be placed with Rush county in case Shelby county was given a separate circuit.

Local attorneys who want a separate court here to relieve the congestion of business bear encouraging reports from Indianapolis that leads them to believe the bill will be passed. The lower house on the opening day voted down a resolution providing that bills should be reported on by the committees within six days and it is rather uncertain when any action will be taken on this judicial bill. It is said that a resolution will pass in the senate providing that a committee shall not keep a bill more than six days without reporting either way.

The bill which Representative Billman introduced would make Shelby county the sixteenth judicial circuit and create the sixty-fourth judicial district for Rush county. It provides for the election of officers in the sixty-fourth district.

If the bill is passed in its present form appointees in the Rush county court would hold office until the first of January, 1915, a little less than two years, because the bill provides the judge and prosecutor shall be chosen at the general election in November, 1914. The court terms are also set forth in the bill. It is entitled:

"An act concerning the courts in the counties of Marion, Shelby and Rush, in the State of Indiana, regulating and fixing the terms of court in room No. 5 of the superior court of Marion county, and the salary of the judge of said room: defining the sixteenth judicial circuit and establishing and creating the sixty-fourth judicial circuit of the State of Indiana, and fixing the time of holding courts in said superior court in Marion county and said judicial circuits and other matters connected therewith, and pertaining thereto, and repealing an act defining the Shelby and Marion superior court, approved March 1, 1911, and repealing all other laws in conflict with this act and declaring an emergency."

The front two sections deal with the Rush circuit court as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the State of Indiana, that on and after the passage of this act, the county of Shelby shall constitute the sixteenth judicial circuit of the State of Indiana; that the term of offices of the judges and prosecuting attorneys thereafter elected in either of said circuits shall

SCHOOL TEACHER INJURED

Gwynneville Pedagogue Falls Down Stairs and Breaks Arm.

Miss Elsie Fout, one of the school teachers in the Gwynneville schools, met with a painful accident yesterday at the noon hour at the school building. Miss Fout was descending the steps from the second to the first floor, when she accidentally made a mis-step, falling heavily. She rolled to the landing at the first floor, suffering a broken right arm near the elbow. The other teachers hurried to her side to lend assistance and then took her home. The injury will keep her from her duties for several days.

MAY LAND MEETING FOR RUSHVILLE

Knights of Pythias Lodge Hopes to Bring District Gathering In February Here.

LIBERTY IS ONLY OPPOSITION

The Knights of Pythias district meeting will more than likely be held in this city. Only one other city is after the district meeting and that is Liberty. Because of the poor train service in and out of Liberty the Rushville lodge stands the better chance of landing the meeting. The district meeting of the K. of P. lodge is always a big gathering and the local lodge is making an effort to bring the meeting here. The meeting will be held in February but the exact date has not been determined.

The Knights of Pythias here are working for a large class of candidates to be taken in at the time of the district meeting. The new ritual of the K. of P. lodge is now in effect

ANOTHER COLD WAVE IS COMING

Weather Man Says it is on The Way But No Specifications Are Given.

RAIN IS A GREAT BENEFIT

A cold wave is coming tomorrow. The weather bureau says so, and the weather bureau ought to know even though it has exposed its infallibility in recent weeks. No specifications are given. The cold wave may be coming from the southwest as rumor has it that it has decamped there after having ruined all the fruit.

A cold wave would be a relief from the weather that has prevailed in the last week in the minds of most people. The dreary, rainy days prevailed for so long that people who watch the weather conditions have despaired of having any real zero weather.

But the excessive downpour of rain has been a benefit. The ground was very dry before the present damp period set in and farmers declare that the rainfall has helped crops materially. It has played havoc with many streams but as yet Flatrock has given no intimation that it intends to overflow its banks.

HANDLES THE MONEY.

Ed Leonard of Carthage, a student in Earlham college at Richmond, was elected treasurer of the senior class at a recent election held by the class.

ONE RULE IS BOTHERSOME

Perishable Stuff Can Not be Sent by Parcel Post Out of First Zone.

STRANGE SITUATION HERE

Butter, Lard and Fowls Can be Sent to Cincinnati and Not to Indianapolis.

Parcel post business at the Rushville postoffice is about the same as it was at the outset, there being no noticeable decrease or increase in the receipts or number of parcels sent and received. Postoffice attaches do not expect to see any increase in business at present.

Clerks at the postoffice are experiencing some trouble on account of the general misunderstanding among patrons of the office concerning one of the regulations of parcel post.

The parcel post guide book says that butter, lard, dressed fowls and other perishable stuff can be mailed at any postoffice or any rural route for the local zone and the first zone but for no more. Many patrons of the Rushville office have attempted to send dressed fowls and butter and lard to Chicago which is in the third zone.

There is no specific description of how parcels for the local rate must be wrapped but the guide book says that all perishables which are sent in the first zone must be done up in a wood, metal or some solid container so that there is no likelihood of breakage.

This regulation will not allow Rushville producers to send any foodstuff to Indianapolis by parcel post. They can not take advantage of the new rate to break into the Indianapolis market where foodstuffs are said to be so dear to the consumer.

Because of the peculiar location of the zones in this vicinity Cincinnati, although twice as far as Indianapolis, is in Rushville's first zone and the latter city is not. Postoffice attaches believe that there should be a special dispensation in this case since the purpose of the regulation is to do away with long hauls of articles which might perish. And besides Rushville and Rush county people would rather send parcels to Indianapolis than Cincinnati because it is there that they most often visit and are better acquainted, rather than Cincinnati.

A special dispatch was sent out from Washington to many large daily newspapers a few days ago that complaints were coming into the postoffice department from rural mail carriers in all parts of the United States. The dispatch stated that it was this class of the postal service that was bearing the brunt of the work since the installation of the new mail rate.

Such a thing does not exist here. Postmaster Charles Frazee says. He says the rural mail carriers have never complained about the extra work occasioned by the parcel post. In fact the parcel post business in Rush county has not been great enough to worry any postoffice employees. Since the new rates have been in effect the rural mail carriers have noted very little increase and have not had near as heavy a mail as they do during the Christmas season.

MORE PLUMS.

J. Milt Stiers, who has a place in the lower house of the legislature, is not the only Rush county Democrat who received a plum. Knowles Casady has been appointed as assistant doorkeeper in the house and John Gantner has a position in the engrossing department.

TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

Anderson Township Advisory Board Decides Today to Rebuild on Same Site in Milroy.

$30,000 TO BE INVESTED FIRST

Will be Duplicate of Old One With Exception of Gymnasium Instead of Auditorium.

At the meeting of the Anderson township advisory board with the township trustee, John D. Kinnett, today it was decided to rebuild the Milroy school house, which was destroyed yesterday at a loss of forty thousand dollars.

The new structure will be erected on the site of the old one, only the jagged walls of which still stand. The building which burned yesterday was located a block west of the Big Four railroad and a block north of the Main street in the town.

Factions arose before the site was selected for the old building. One faction wanted it built east of the railroad and another desired that it be located where the new one will be erected. Some little feeling was aroused over the insignificant question but it all disappeared in a short time after the building was completed, because everyone in Milroy was proud of the new building.

It is said that the trustee and the advisory board feared that this same question would arise again and that the community would be divided along the same old lines, and for this reason met this morning and arrived at this decision.

The new building will be an exact duplicate of the one which was destroyed by fire with one exception. That exception will be that the auditorium will be changed into a gymnasium. It is understood that before the other school was built there was a great demand for a gymnasium but for the purposes of the community as a whole the advisory board thought an auditorium would be the best thing. The high school body is very desirous of a gymnasium as basketball is a very popular game in the town about six months out of every year.

Only thirty thousand dollars will be expended at first because that is the limit to which the township can go in building a school house. For thirty thousand dollars the building can be erected and finished enough so that school can be held. The building will be completed as fast as possible and as the township debt will allow.

School will be resumed in Milroy just as soon as the new seats, which were ordered yesterday, arrive. The high school and eighth grade will meet in the Presbyterian church and the other grades of the common school will be held in the Modern Woodman hall and the Barton hall.

HAS POSITION IN SENATE

Miss Anna Sullivan Special Stenographer to Lieutenant Governor.

Miss Anna Sullivan will go to Indianapolis next week to act as special stenographer to Lieutenant Governor O'Neil during the present session of the legislature. Senator Cary Jackson of this city and Frank J. Hall of this city, the retiring lieutenant-governor, were instrumental in obtaining the appointment for her. When she was first offered the position Miss Sullivan refused it on account of her pressing duties here but later reconsidered.

WILL DEDICATE SCHOOL

New Building at Moscow Will be Formally Opened.

The Moscow school building will be dedicated Monday, State Superintendent Greathouse has been invited to attend the dedicatory exercises. The building has been open for a week but the formal dedication was set for Monday. A basket dinner will feature the day. The building is a beautiful structure and was completed at a cost of $13,000. It is modern throughout. John Geraghty is principal of the Moscow school.

PRINTED MATTER MAY BE INCLUDED

Postal Authorities Believe This Division of Mail Should Come Under Parcel Post.

CONGRESS MAY BE PERSUADED

Authorities of the postoffice department think it will be only a short time until books and other printed matter, now handled as third class mail at 8 cents a pound, will be made available as parcel post matter. Steps already have been taken to induce the congress to amend the parcel post act so as to permit printed matter to be sent by parcel post.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock has decided that senders of parcels post packages containing merchandise might inclose printed matter descriptive of the contents without affecting their classification. His order is an amendment to existing parcel post regulations, which provide that the inclusion in a package of any printed matter subjects the entire package to the third-class rate of postage.

FRAZEE'S TERM EXPIRES SUNDAY

But He Will Continue as Postmaster Indefinitely Since Local Appointment is Unsettled.

AGREEMENT MADE IN SENATE

Charles Frazee's term as postmaster expires tomorrow but he will continue to hold office until the local difficulty is settled. How it will be settled is very problematical.

G. P. Hunt has been recommended for the postoffice by Congressman Gray and Charles Frazee has been recommended by the Republican referees in Indiana and his nomination sent to the senate by President Taft. It now awaits the confirmation of the senate.

Dispatches from Washington say that Senators Kern and Shively of Indiana will hold up the Indiana nominations. In that event Mr. Frazee will hold office until Woodrow Wilson is inaugurated and the next congress goes in session. Late news from Washington is that Republican senators have formed a working agreement that they will hold up Wilson's nominations unless the senate confirms those made by Pres. Taft where the terms expire before Pres. Taft goes out of office.

WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Sunday. Much colder with cold wave north and central portion.

8 CONVICTIONS DURING THE YEAR

Statistical Report of Clerk of Circuit Court Shows 13 Were Found Guilty.

3 SENTENCES ARE SUSPENDED

Judge Blair Granted 20 Divorces to Wives and 3 to Husbands--Other Statistics.

Of the thirteen defendants found guilty in criminal cases in the circuit court during the year 1912, three were released on probation, eight were convicted of felonies and had to serve sentences and two were convicted of misdemeanors and had to serve a sentence.

These facts are revealed in the statistical report prepared by the clerk of the circuit court to be filed with the State statistician. Nineteen criminal cases were dismissed during the year and eighteen were disposed of. There were five cases for liquor law violation and no convictions. Ten criminal cases were sent away and five were sent here on change of venue.

Thirty-nine divorce cases were filed during the year and four cases were denied and dismissed. Judge Blair granted twenty-three divorces, three to husbands and 20 to wives. The charges in two cases were abandonment, in one adultery, in one criminal conviction, in fifteen cruel treatment, in one drunkenness, in one failure to provide and one for other causes.

Eight persons were arrested for crimes on bench warrants issued from the circuit court. All of them were whites and men, with one exception, which was Mrs. Sarah Richey. She is charged with stealing turkeys.

The crimes charged were one for assault and battery with intent to kill, one for forgery, one for grand larceny, three for petit larceny, and two for other felonies.

Eight were convicted for crimes during the year, five of whom received sentences and three fines. One man was sent to the State prison for assault and battery with intent to kill and another was sent to the same place for forgery. One was sent to the Indiana reformatory for petit larceny and one for grand larceny. One person was sent to the Indiana reformatory for a felony.

Under the head of misdemeanors the report shows two were arrested and four were convicted. The two arrested were charged with assault and battery and other misdemeanors. They were both fined and set loose.

The report shows 265 civil cases were filed and 224 disposed of during the year. Ten cases were sent to other counties and fifty-nine were sent here on a change of venue. There were eighteen cases in juvenile court.

There were fifty-seven letters of administration issued and twenty guardianships issued. Six decrees of foreclosure were entered and three sheriff's sale were held. Six persons were adjudged of unsound mind. A hundred and sixty-five marriage licenses were issued and 221 hunting licenses were issued.

Two foreigners, one an Italian, declared their intentions of becoming United States citizens during the year.

TAKEN TO FORT.

Samuel S. Hinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hinton of Arlington, who was arrested near Plainfield Thursday night by the Shelbyville chief of police was turned over to the army officers at Fort Benjamin Harrison near Indianapolis yesterday. He was an army deserter.

BALDY MCGREGOR IS A STAR

Foreign Buyers Are Negotiating For His Purchase—May Follow
Other Champions Abroad.

Friends of John Dagler, the Rushville man who is manager of the Reidson stock farm at Richmond, have always contended that he was a trainer of fast horses that would make an enviable reputation for himself, but it seems from the following by an authority concerning Baldy McGregor, which Mr. Dagler trained and made what he is today, it is judged that his reputation has already been made:

Two of the star three-year-olds of 1912, Manrico (2:07 1/4), winner of the Kentucky Futurity, and Adlon (2:07 3/4), winner of the Horse Review event, were sold previous to the closing of the past racing season, the former going to the stud at Walnut Hall Farm and the latter being exported to Austria. The third of the fast trio of youngsters who beat 2:08 in 1912 and the fastest by the records, Baldy McGregor (2:06 3/4), will find a new owner at auction in New York next month, his owner, Henry Schmulbach, of Wheeling, having decided to retire from the turf, closing out all of his horse holdings by the way of the auction ring.

Schmulbach purchased Baldy Mc-

Gregor after the racing season started last summer. In fact, the colt changed hands twice, as when he first started, during the Cleveland meeting, he was owned by George B. Dongan, an Indiana breeder, but he showed so well that that astute turfman, John Madden, snapped him up at a price said to be well up around $8,000. The following week he started at Pittsburg in the Matron Stake against Adlon, who had defeated him at Cleveland. The latter was on his bad behavior and Baldy McGregor was good, winning very easily and trotting the final heat in 2:08, at that time the fastest heat by a three-year-old, and was not beaten until the race for the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington. He was then sold to Schmulbach for a long price. Baldy was beaten in that event in the greatest race in the history of colt trotting, winning the first heat 2:07 3/4 and compelling Manrico to trot the final heat in 2:07 1/4, the world's record for a sixth heat.

The foreign buyers have been negotiating for him for some time, and it would be no surprise should he be purchased for export as so many of our fast record trotting stallions have been in the past few months.

JAMES L. DAVENPORT

Pension Commissioner Is Target
For Georgia Congressman's Wit.

PENSION BILL CAME IN FOR FILIBUSTER

Commissioner Davenport the Target for Sarcasm.

Washington, Jan. 11.—James L. Davenport, United States commissioner of pensions, it was brought out in debate in the house, has been drawing a pension of $16 a month from the government since July, 1886. Attention was directed to the fact by Representative Roddenberry of Georgia, who bitterly opposed the pending omnibus pension bill. Mr. Roddenberry offered an amendment to the measure reducing Commissioner Davenport's pension to $1 a month. The amendment was defeated by an overwhelming vote. The Georgia member made a humorous speech on the Davenport pension, declaring that the commissioner had been granted it on the ground that he was suffering from a wasting disease.

"If he had that disease in 1886 he would have been a human skeleton by this time," shouted Mr. Roddenberry. "But look at him. If you have seen him you know that he is the picture of health."

Mr. Roddenberry charged that Mr. Davenport enlisted in a Wisconsin regiment near the close of the war, "when the government was paying high bounties." The Georgian insisted that the altruistic idea of the pension system was entirely overlooked when a man was paid a gratuity of $16 a month who at the time received a salary of $5,000 a year as a government official.

Representative Roddenberry, assisted by Representative Tribble, also of Georgia, and Representative Moon of Tennessee, conducted a filibuster against the pension bill throughout the day, and the house finally was forced to adjourn with the pension bill still lying on the calendar.

FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Three "First Ladies of the Land" Will Be Seen Together.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Tonight will see, for the first time in the history of the nation, three "first ladies of the land" seated at the festive board in the White House at the same time. President and Mrs. Taft will have as their guests to dinner, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Mrs. Cleveland, with her fiancé, Prof. T. J. Preston, Jr., has been here three days. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond. Mrs. Harrison arrived yesterday afternoon and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Parker, widow of Rear Admiral Parker.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a certified copy of a decree and order of sale, to me directed from the Clerk's office of the Rush Circuit Court, in a cause wherein the Rush County Mortgage Loan Association, Trustee, is plaintiff and Claudene Fore, et al., are defendants, requiring me to make the sum of two thousand, one hundred and sixty dollars ($2,160), with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale, to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the 8th Day of February, 1913, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., of said day, at the door of the Court House, of said Rush County, Indiana, the rents and profits of a term not exceeding seven years, of the following described real estate, to-wit:

Lot numbered four (4), in New Salem, as platted by Moses Thompson, also commencing at the southeast corner of said lot and running thence southwest with the east line of said lot extending two (2) rods; thence in a northwesterly direction with the south line of said lot five (5) rods; thence north to the southwest corner of said lot; thence to the place of beginning.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will, at the same time and place, expose at public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

Said sale will be made without any relief whatever from valuation or appraisal laws.

SMALLEST COUNTRY IN EUROPE TO CELEBRATE.

Moresnet, One and a Quarter Square Miles In Area, 100 Years Old.

The centenary of the Napoleonic wars calls attention to the existence of the smallest state in Europe, the autonomous republic of Moresnet, on the boundary between Germany and Belgium, which will soon celebrate the hundredth anniversary of its establishment.

Moresnet has an area of barely one and one-quarter square miles and a population of 3,500. It owes its existence to a boundary controversy for the control of a once important zinc mine. A boundary commission settling the frontiers of Holland and Prussia after the fall of Napoleon in 1814 was unable to agree upon the ownership of this tiny piece of land with its valuable mining rights and finally left the question for future settlement. Neither power was to occupy it, and it was to be administered jointly by the two states.

In practice the joint administration soon resulted in an administration by neither state, and the community became autonomous under the protection and tutelage of Prussia and Holland and later of Prussia and Belgium. In 1841 the two guaranteeing countries regularized this and formally gave the district its own independent administration.

It has no courts, but litigants can choose between the Belgium and Prussian tribunals in beginning litigation, which is subject to the laws neither of Germany nor of Belgium, but of the ancient Code Napoleon.

ST. PAUL'S REPORTED SINKING

Famous Cathedral in London in Bad Condition.

The alarming report on the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, in London, has intensified the agitation to prevent the construction of a subway near the famous building.

Sir Francis Fox, the great engineer, who recently examined the building, declares that the cathedral is actually moving and cracking, that the subway should on no account be permitted near the cathedral and that immediate remedial measures are imperative to secure the safety of the building.

He also says the heavy motor bus traffic near the cathedral is a serious evil, the weight on the foundations is excessive and the subsoil under the building is unstable, being heavily charged with water.

INDIANA SOLONS EARLY AT WORK

Bills Pour In Without Any Delay.

"BLUE SKY" LAW PROPOSED

Among the First Bills Introduced Was One by Representative Branaman Proposing to Put a Stop to the Exploitation and Sale of Worthless Stocks in Indiana—Legislature Accepts Thomas Taggart's Invitation.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—There is going to be little delay in pushing the affairs of the session if the legislature keeps up its present pace. Contrary to precedent, numerous bills were introduced in both houses yesterday. With committees working right from the first day in the house, expedition is expected to mark the progress of these and succeeding measures, through the legislative channels. The new lieutenant governor, O'Neill, will name his committees in the senate probably Monday afternoon, immediately following his installation as presiding officer of the upper house. Both houses are taking a rest today, adjournment having been made until noon Monday, when the inauguration of Governor Elect Ralston will be the big feature.

One of the most notable bills introduced in the house was the "blue sky" bill sent up by Representative Branaman of Brownstown, which seeks to compel all companies desiring to sell stocks or bonds, except certain companies of classes named, to obtain from the auditor of state a certificate to do business. Under this bill the certificate is issued only after the auditor has made examination of the proposed plan of business and has looked into the assets and liability and made a finding that the plan is safe, equitable and fair. A system of publication of reports of the company is required, and examination of the company, as in the case with state banks, is provided, and the keeping of books open to inspection by prospective investors is called for. For selling stock without complying with the act, the penalty is from $100 to $5,000, or imprisonment not more than ninety days.

Other measures introduced in the house included one for a public utilities commission, a corrupt practice act and an inheritance tax. A bill appropriating $120,000 for the expenses of the session passed under suspension of the rules.

To Revise Constitution.

In the upper house Senator Curtis presented a motion to prevent the smothering of bills in committees. A fight on this resolution was deferred by action of the lieutenant governor in referring the motion to the committee on rules, which has not yet been appointed. Senator Stotsenburg presented a joint resolution withdrawing from the further consideration of the people the "lawyers amendment," and another one seeking to open the way for further revision of the Indiana state constitution. The amendments proposed are similar to those proposed in the 1911 new constitution submitted by Governor Marshall and passed by the 1911 legislature, but now held up pending a decision by the supreme court.

Wade H. Free, principal clerk of the senate, has announced the appointment of J. W. Farrell of Muncie as indorsing clerk. P. W. Roche, editor of the Mt. Vernon Democrat, was made chief of the engrossing room. The chief registry clerk is N. B. Cardiff of Covington. Chester DeWitt of New-castle is minute clerk and Edgar Traylor of Jasper is file clerk. The following stenographers have been named: Miss Katherin Droll of Mishawaka, stenographer for Lieutenant Governor O'Neill; Miss Myrtle Cassel of Lafayette; Miss Grace Van Aiken, Auburn; Miss Granger, Logansport; Miss Agnes Costello, Fort Wayne; and Miss Margaret Haley, Miss Anna Conner, Miss Fink, Mrs. B. Stout and Miss Crim of Indianapolis. All of the assistant doorkeepers have not yet been named. Some who have places are: Frank Cook of Columbus, Charles McKinney of Bourbon and Patrick McCarty of Huntington.

The journal clerks in the house are as follows: O. A. Cassidy, Spencer; E. C. Garrell, Winamac; Elmer Dean, Shelbyville; Butler Tall, Indianapolis; Geraldine Nusbau, Auburn; Florence Errinson, Dekalb county; Robert Youngmeyer, Lafayette; Julia Shine, Vincennes, and Edwin Hauck, Indianapolis. The plunder committee of the house appointed as the purchasing agent of the house, Thomas B. Wright, until recently with W. B. Burford. Mr. Burford has the contract for the state printing and furnishes the supplies to the legislature. Wright's duties consist of making the purchase of such things as may be needed by the lower house, keeping the custody of the supplies, handing them out as needed, and auditing bills.

The house received a message from Thomas Taggart inviting the members of the general assembly to be his guests at a smoker in the Denison hotel Tuesday night. In his letter Mr. Taggart said the affair would give the members of the senate and house "an opportunity to become acquainted with each other." The reading clerk was vigorously applauded and the invitation was accepted with a burrah.

CLOSING SCENE FOR BIG TIM SULLIVAN

Bowery Congressman's Days of Usefulness Over.

New York, Jan. 11.—Among all nationalities and all creeds and races in the Thirteenth congressional district, there was many a sad heart last night when it was learned that Timothy D. Sullivan, their representative in congress, "Big Tim," who also had represented the Bowery district in the senate and assembly at Albany for many years, would be with them no more forever.

It became known that upon application of a stepbrother and step-sister, Justice Amend had signed an order committing Representative Sullivan to a sanitarium in Yonkers. The disease from which he is suffering has taken such strides within the last few weeks that it became necessary for his stepbrother and the step-sister to make a permanent arrangement for his physical restraint in the sanitarium.

Sullivan has become a victim of marked hallucinations which indicated that in the near future it would be necessary to put him under restraint, and he will without doubt be removed perhaps to Amityville, where Maurice Barrymore and John McCullough, the famous actors, died a number of years ago. Representative Sullivan is suffering from the same malady which brought to an untimely end these famous members of the theatrical profession.

LEGISLATURE IS TIED UP

A Determined Deadlock Again Blocks Progress in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—The Illinois house of representatives has accomplished nothing looking toward the election of a speaker.

The senate has departed from Springfield with an agreement to which Democrats, Republicans and Progressives are parties that they will not return for business until Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The house has taken twenty-four ineffectual ballots and it is generally agreed that no speaker will be elected for several days. There is no substantial change in the relative strength of the various speakership candidates.

Milroy's School Building Burns.

Milroy, Ind., Jan. 11.—Fire destroyed the school building here, causing a loss of $40,000. The building was completed in November, 1907. The township still owes $19,000 on the structure, and carried only $20,000 insurance. As there is no fire department in the town, the building could not be saved.

AN INCENDIARY TRUST ALLEGED

New York Fire Commissioner Causes Arrest.

CONFESSION REVEALS PLOT

Existence of a Conspiracy Which Has Robbed Fire Insurance Companies of Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Annually and Endangered the Lives of Thousands of Flat Dwellers, Is Charged in New York.

New York, Jan. 11.—According to the district attorney and the fire marshal, the confession of one man and the arrest of another has developed that an "incendiary trust" has existed in this city which has robbed the fire insurance companies of thousands of dollars annually and which has endangered the lives of many thousands of apartment house dwellers.

The man who confessed is Samuel Gold, who lived at 574 East 138th street and wherever else he found it convenient to have a profitable household goods fire. The man who was arrested is George Grutz of 62 East 102nd street, an agent for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company and an adjuster on the side. Gold's confession implicated Grutz as the go-between for flat dwellers who were willing to be burned out for a consideration, and the firebugs, the men who actually applied a match to kerosene or oils. One of the principal firebugs employed by the "arson trust," according to Gold's confession, is Isador Stern, "Izzy the Painter," who now is serving a long term in Sing Sing after having been convicted of arson.

Gold admitted to Assistant District Attorney Weller and to Fire Marshal Prial that Grutz came to him one day in 1910 and told him it was easy to make money out of the insurance companies, and that he (Grutz), having a pull with the adjusters and agents of the German Insurance company, could arrange matters profitably. Gold says that Grutz sent him to a professional firebug named Isador Stein, who in order to procure kerosene and oils without being suspected, ran a make-believe paint store.

Grutz, Gold and "Izzy the Painter," made an arrangement by which on the night of Dec. 9, 1910, the professional firebug entered Gold's apartment and set fire to the clothes closet. Under instructions from Gold, Mrs. Gold and the babies had gone to a butcher shop in the meantime, and Gold himself was at work. An inspector representing the German American company made an examination of the scorched flat and reported that the damage did not amount to much. Nevertheless Grutz, who acted as an adjuster for the company, took an inventory of the furniture and turned in a report of total loss, making a claim for $900. The company refused to settle for $900, but compromised finally for $525. This amount was divided between Grutz, Gold and Stein, according to Gold.

"From the investigation by this office," said Assistant District Attorney Weller, "it appears that Grutz, posing as an insurance broker, worked also as an adjuster, and that he was able to compromise many 'total losses' (where the actual loss was trivial), for 50 or 60 per cent of the claim. Stein was the active figure in the crooked combination.

Gold's confession, which described several incendiary fires, was the direct result of the arrest of Grutz. In the Harlem police court Assistant District Attorney Weller informed Magistrate Murphy that Grutz had "arranged" many incendiary fires, and Mr. Weller asked the magistrate to fix heavy bail, Magistrate Murphy held Grutz in $15,000 bail for further examination.

Fire Commissioner Johnson was elated when he returned the news of Gold's confession and of Grutz's arrest.

FINALLY GOT HIS RING BACK

Here is a New Jersey Story That Has Them All Beat.

Bayonne, N. J., Jan. 11.—George Crawford, a member of the Bayonne fire department, spent his vacation last summer on a farm at Lake Hopatcong. During his sojourn he lost a valuable diamond ring and until yesterday got no trace of it. The lost ring was recovered in an unusual way. He went to a local butcher shop and purchased a chicken which he told the butcher to clean. While the cleaning was in progress something glistening dropped from the entrails to the counter. Crawford claimed the ring as the purchaser of the chicken, but the butcher demurred, claiming that the fireman had only bought the chicken, not the entrails.

Crawford recognized the ring as the one he had lost at Lake Hopatcong. Questioning the butcher, he learned that the chicken was one of a crate that had been sent from Lake Hopatcong. The butcher finally surrendered the ring and chicken to the fireman.

Talking Pictures.

Edison is too seasoned in practical invention to encourage false expectations. The public believes that if he has not yet perfected moving pictures associated with corresponding speech, music and other sounds he has mastered the main problem, and that only some of the details are yet to be put in practical shape. The records of the phonograph and the photographic reel have been accomplished facts for years. It has remained to bring them together subject to some sort of clockwork that would preserve the unity of speech and motion. The popularity of moving pictures has rested largely with the public's quick understanding of pantomime. This insight on the part of mixed audiences has been striking, and accounts for the rapid rise of film shows. A good reel keeps the minds of spectators so busy that the interest is sustained, in spite of the fact that each person who watches the shadows must fill in the story by suggestions. It is by a kindred play of a reader's fancy that the mind creates pictures from the printed pages of fiction.

An English poet has it that the shadow proves the substance. The visualized drama, opera, concert, dialogue and oratory promised by Edison opens such possibilities that it ranges from the verities of history to the full play of the imagination. That it will please as a standard entertainment is assured by the lasting attractiveness of the pantomimic moving pictures. This generation will not have the pleasure of seeing the movements and hearing the voices of the gifted men and women of the past, but there will be some foretaste of the great treat to be provided for posterity. It was in January, 1877, that Edison made his demonstration with a loud-speaking telephone. In the following December he produced working records of the phonograph. That was a wonder-year, and the tale is not half told yet for telephones, the motion film and the graphophone record. Their combination is likely to bring new marvels. And Edison is still several years short of 70.

There are just two things necessary for the express companies to get back the business they have lost by the parcel post: Put down their prices to compete with Uncle Sam, and buy advertising space to let the people know about it.

Idaho has adopted constitutional amendments for both referendum and recall, but less than half of the voters marked their ballots on these issues. It has been a great year for minority representation.

There has been a big slump in the price of express stocks, but it is hoped that Congress will not feel it necessary to reimburse them for the loss occasioned by the parcel post.

Freak shipments by parcel post will not last long. The Post Office is a practical, common-sense institution and stamps have too close a resemblance to cash to be wasted.

begin on the first day of January, after the election thereof.

"Section 2. The term of the circuit court in the county of Shelby shall begin on the first Monday of February, the first Monday in May, the first Monday in September and the third Monday in November in each year, and shall continue as long as the business pending in said court shall require and no longer. The term of the circuit court of the sixty-fourth judicial circuit, consisting of the county of Rush, created by this act, shall commence on the first Monday in February, the first Monday in May, the first Monday in September and the third Monday in November in each year, and shall continue as long as the business pending in said court shall require and no longer."

The next four sections of the bill have to do with the transferring of the superior court, which has been held in Shelby county since the last legislature, to Marion county, and arranging for all cases now pending or filed in the superior court to be transferred to the Shelby circuit court.

The next section deals with the local proposed district:

"Section 7. The judge and prosecuting attorney heretofore elected for the sixteenth judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Shelby and Rush, shall be the judge and prosecuting attorney of the sixteenth judicial circuit composed of the county of Shelby created by this act. Upon the taking effect of this act, the governor of the State of Indiana shall appoint and commission a judge and prosecuting attorney for the sixty-fourth circuit created by this act, composed of the county of Rush, who shall hold their office until the first day of January, 1915, and until their successors are elected and qualified, and at the general election to be held in the State of Indiana in November, 1914, a judge and prosecuting attorney shall be elected for said circuit, whose term of office shall begin on the first day of January, 1915."

The eighth section provides for the repeal of the act of March 11, 1911, establishing the superior court in Shelbyville during the circuit court vacation and for the repeal of all acts in conflict with this latest one.

The last section provides for an emergency clause as follows:

"Section 9. An emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act, therefore the same shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage."

The Palace offers a two reel feature tonight entitled "In Old Tennessee." James Fearley and King Baggett are featured in this picture which is said to be a beautiful production.

"The Family Next Door" is the title of a Lubin drama, the first picture at the Princess tonight. It is a western picture and is a thriller. The other is a Vitagraph comedy, "Lessons in Courtship." Monday night, "The Voice of Warning" will be shown.

The Portola will show three reels of picture tonight, "Jim's Partner" is the title of a Pathe drama. The second film is a Selig "A Fisher Boy's Faith," "None But the Brave Deserve the Fair" is the title of a Vitagraph comedy. The usual vaudeville offering is included in the program.

The story of "The Rose Maid," which begins a week's engagement at English's opera house, Indianapolis, Monday night, January 13th, is a pretty romance as well as a satire on foreign titled paupers who plan to sell themselves to rich American girls in order to recoup their expended fortunes.

The youthful Duke of Barehester is a noble spendthrift, whose debts amount to a million. A half dozen heiresses are ready to take him in hand when the little rose girl, an acquaintance of his youth, steps in and complicates the plot. A coterie of money lenders figure as the comedians, and the story of the play concerns their attempt to marry the duke to a wealthy American girl, while all the time his heart is being entangled in a web of love woven by the faithful little rose maid.

The cast is a notable one. As the rose maid, Mizzie Hajos, one of the youngest prima donnas on the stage, is featured. Other principals include Mlle Mana Zucco, an Italian song bird; Edith Decker, R. E. Graham, Al Shehan, Arthur Clough, May Emory, Millie Murray and Oscar Ragland.

There will be matinee performances of "The Rose Maid" Wednesday and Saturday. One of the many features of the play is the "cute kiddies," who make their appearance in "The Happy Family" song.

TREASURERS ARE PLEASED WITH PAY

County Officials Declare They Will Not Ask Legislature For Increase—Terms Discussed.

TREASURER McBRIDE PRESENT

The meeting of county treasurers in Indianapolis this week was said to be usual for the reason that they did not discuss a raise in salary as has been done at meetings of other county officials. They did appoint a legislative committee, however, which will look after bills affecting their office. County Treasurer William McBride attended the meeting.

The subject of the date of a county treasurer taking his office was discussed. In some counties of the state the treasurers took their offices January 1, 1913, while in other counties treasurers-elect will not take the office until 1914. The difference in time is said to have come in the organization of the county governments and cannot be adjusted on account of a provision in the state constitution that no treasurer shall hold office for more than four years out of six. This prevents the extension of time in some of the counties, while the lopping off of one year from the term of others would cause an injustice. The convention of treasurers thought the difference should be adjusted by constitutional amendment.

It's Funny

How minds will differ. It would be absolutely impractical to pave the city with gold bricks, is the statement a friend of mine made to me and he gave this reason:

Hoboes from all over the country would come here and extract them as they needed them and it would keep our streets torn up almost all the time.

What method do you think could be devised to remedy this condition?

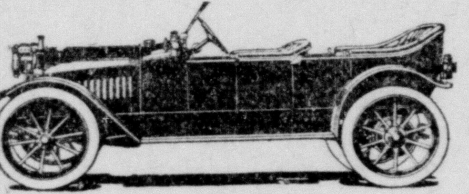

I am open for suggestions.

He Comes Up Smiling

By Charles Sherman

"I was only trying to find a bucket," stammered Billy.

"Those things don't belong to you. You have no right there." And Bartlett sternly and promptly shut the door.

Billy drew back hurt. "I don't see why it is so wrong to break into a man's pantry," said she, "after you have broken into his house. Besides,

Peered Gingerly In.

daddy, you have known these people all your life."

"That's the trouble," said Bartlett desperately with a rush, "I don't know these people. I have never been here before." He glared defiantly at the general, daring him to suggest the blue book.

For a moment no one spoke. Alphonse at the door, hat in hand, the general by the table, another prematurely acquired sandwich in his hand half way to his mouth, Henrietta, busy with the flame of the tiny alcohol lamp, Billy before him, the Watermelon on the edge of the dresser where he had seated himself, all stared in dull surprise. The Watermelon broke the silence.

"Better to break into another man's house than have him break into yours," said he. He glanced at Bartlett with just the flicker of amusement in his mild gray eyes, thinking that Bartlett had got lost already, deliberately, with the intention of spending the greater part of the following day finding themselves, and so successfully passing one day of the seven. Bartlett glanced at the young man and flushed. It seemed to him for one fleeting moment that the youth with the sleepy eyes knew a bit more than Bartlett cared to have him know, cared to have anyone know, that he even seemed to suspect him of having got lost on purpose. Then the sleepy eyes turned again to Billy and the older man told himself that he was mistaken. He was growing nervous and reading his own intentions in every one's eyes. He strove to regain the mastery of his nerves by airy indifference.

"A slight mistake," said he. "Ah, yes," said Henrietta, "as when you go off with another man's umbrella."

The general, with rare nerve, took a bite from the sandwich and laid it on the table. He drew his handkerchief and wiped his hands. "I will get the blue book," he began busily, his mouth still rather full.

"We don't need the blue book to tell us to get out," said Henrietta, a bit tartly. She looked at the dainty pile of sandwiches, the cold chicken, cakes and olives on the table with the wooden plates and gay paper napkins she had arranged for the coming feast and hesitated. She wished some one was courageous enough to suggest that they eat before they leave.

"Certainly not," said the general. "But if we had consulted them before we left—"

"Sort of in the fashion of an oracle," sneered Henrietta as she began slowly to gather up the napkins and the wooden plates.

"Tell me," said Bartlett calmly, impersonally, not as one desiring an argument, but simply as an humble seeker after knowledge, with no prior views on the subject, "tell me, can you never make a mistake if you have a blue book?"

"No," said Henrietta, "never. With the blue book one could go directly to heaven. It would be impossible not to."

Billy laughed.

"Billy would laugh at her funeral," said Bartlett coldly.

"We haven't anything to cry about," said the Watermelon, frankly unconcerned. "It's for the man who owns the house to do the crying."

"How did you get here?" demanded the general, as Alphonse went to get the blue book, for the general could no longer be gainsaid in his desire for his book. "Is this where the Higgins' home should be?"

"Why no, father," said Henrietta, "or it would be here."

"I meant, Henrietta, did we come the right way? If we took every turn and have come far enough and not too far, this should be the Higgins' house."

"It should be," admitted Bartlett. "But it isn't."

"Why not eat here?" suggested the Watermelon, unimpressed by the aspect of the affair as it struck the others. "We can hunt for the Higginses afterward. They ought to be around somewhere unless we're helplessly lost."

Henrietta smiled and took out the napkins she had laid back in the basket. "It won't take us long," she agreed. "We don't need to have any tea."

"No," protested Bartlett, glancing at the door and listening for the crunch of wheels on the gravel without, "no, we must leave at once. We aren't lost. The Higginses' is probably the next house."

"Suppose it isn't," said Billy. "Just so," answered the general. "We will return to the village and put up at the hotel. It isn't late."

"It's half-past eleven," said Henrietta, glancing at her watch.

Alphonse returned, blase, indifferent. "There are no books," said he, devoid of all interest in the affair.

"No books," cried the general. "Alphonse, what has become of them? Did you take them out of the car before we left?"

"No," said Alphonse, and violent, positive protestations could not have been more convincing.

"But where are they? I left them in the car."

"They probably fell out, father," said Henrietta.

"They have never fallen out before," snorted the general, with base suspicions against Henrietta.

"We can get another tomorrow," said Henrietta. "We will simply return to the hotel in the village for the night." And once more she replaced the napkins in the basket.

"Yes," agreed Bartlett. "There is a good hotel near the railroad tracks."

"Where are the railroad tracks?" asked the general, who had lost all faith in Bartlett's knowledge of the country. "We passed no railroad tracks."

"Just before you come to the village," retorted Bartlett, irritated as a badgered animal. "You have to cross them as you come up the main street."

"We crossed none," said the general, with the indifference of one who realizes that there is no more to hope for. The boat is sinking, let it sink. The last cent gone and the landlord coming for two months' rent. Let him come.

"No," said Billy gently, "we didn't father."

"Why, we did, we must have," protested Bartlett. "I always come here on the railroad train. They have to flag it, but it stops. Why, I know there are tracks there."

To be continued.

COMING TO RUSHVILLE

Dr. Mayo And Associated Specialists

Will be at the Grand Hotel Tuesday Jan. 14th. Hours 9 a.

m. to 5 p. m.

HERE FOR ONE DAY ONLY

Remarkable Success of These Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Their Services Free of Charge.

Dr. Mayo and Associated Specialists licensed by the State of Indiana for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are considered by many former patients among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic disease.

Diseases of the stomach, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, dropsy, sciatica, weak lungs and those afflicted with longstanding, deep-seated chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call.

Varicose and Hydrocele cured in one treatment, no knife and no detention from business. Catarrh treated successfully.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty, you owe yourself, as a visit this time costs you nothing.

Remember this free offer for one day only. D23543Wt1

TRACES ANCESTRY OF RACE TO ORIGIN

Millions Descend From One "Superwoman."

MONEY GIANTS' LINEAGE.

John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan Have Blood of Buccaneer, Sir Francis Drake, In Their Veins, Says Dr. David Starr Jordan, Who Is Preparing Remarkable Book.

Down at Carmel-by-the-Sea, where poets weave thoughts of fancy, and painters mix their oils, Dr. David Starr Jordan is preparing a bombshell, a little book, which has been finished with loving care. When it is tossed on the world a hole will be blasted in that world's opinion of itself, for the book will be the latest dictum of science on "Who's Really Who In America."

The head of Stanford university is, among other things, president of the eugenics commission of the American Breeders' association, and his essay will be written ostensibly for that organization.

Equipped with tomes and charts and aided by the most expert genealogist on the Pacific coast, Dr. Jordan has traced 1,000 American families, representing several million of us, back through their ancestry.

As material for his book Dr. Jordan has reached these findings:

First.—At least half the citizens of this country of English ancestry are descendants of one "superwoman" and members of one colossal family.

Second.—Isabella de Vermandois, daughter of a crusader, wife of the Duke of Warren, living in the twelfth century, is the common progenitor of the teeming millions whom Dr. Jordan stamps as the "fittest" of the English speaking race.

Includes John D. and Morgan.

Third.—John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan belong to this remarkable family, and their millions of "poor relations" will now be able to prove it.

Fourth.—Rockefeller and Morgan have ancestral lines which also run back to that prince of buccaneers, Sir Francis Drake.

Fifth.—Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, the two Harrisons, Cleveland and Roosevelt are shown to be quite definitely related.

Sixth.—President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard and Presidents Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia, the two Timothy Doughts, Mr. Woolsey of Yale and Dr. Jordan himself happen to fall into a college president trust, due to their common ancestor.

Seventh.—Virtually any family which can trace its line back to Isabella de Vermandois is mentally and physically sound, and its progeny stand a more than unusual chance to inherit the earth.

Eighth.—The mating of Mother Isabella's descendants, Dr. Jordan declares, is a step toward the ideal of eugenics, which is to apply the principles of scientific animal breeding or plant selection such as practiced by Luther Burbank to the human race.

Ninth.—True love, with the initiative of the individuals tempered by an understanding of eugenics, is far and away a better method of bringing about this selective ideal than a resort to state regulation of parental interference.

Tenth.—Luther Burbank's own line has not yet been shown to run back to Mother Isabella, and the greatest living exponent of applied eugenics may himself not be included in Dr. Jordan's list of the "fittest."

Some of Family Names.

Dr. Jordan discussed his researches and his aims sitting near an open wood fire within sound of the Carmel surf. Taking the Duchess of Warren as a touchstone, he has traced to her a thousand American families. Here are some of the families whom he stamps as unusually "fit," as he announced them offhand from memory:

Page, Lee, Drake, Bacon, Granville, Howard, Courtney, Stuart, Carrol, Blair, Worth, Hawley, Waldo, Durkee, Wight, Lake, Benedict and Davenport.

Necropolis of Bronze Age Found.

An extensive necropolis of the bronze age has been discovered at Viattano, Italy. Some of the finds were valuable urns and weapons.

GREED IN PARIS.

[The linotype operators threaten a general strike unless they can get a nine hour day, with a daily wage of $1.60.—Paris News.]

Why doth the greedy printer balk And swear he's going to strike? A dollar sixty fills his talk, And nine hours he would like.

Why doth the long, long suffering boss Permit such mutterings dire? A lockout might "put one across" On toilers stirred by ire.

Why doth the Paris Labor Press, Which here is seldom seen, Avoid the woe which floods, I guess, Each minion magazine?

Why doth the government survey In calm this threatened war? It knows employers cannot pay What greed is clamoring for! —Brooklyn Eagle.

Tuberculosis of Hip Successfully Treated

REGINALD FITCH.

The remarkable recovery of little Reginald Fitch from tuberculosis of the hip shows conclusively that Nature's Creation is just as effective in the treatment of tuberculosis of the bone as it is in cases where the lungs are affected.

"To Whom It May Concern: Last October our son Reginald began suffering with his right leg. We had him examined by five specialists and doctors (had five X-ray photos) and the case was pronounced tubercular hip joint and shortening of the leg 3/4 inch. They prescribed Bradford frame. So, on the 25th day of October, we put him on this frame, strapped flat on his back with five-pound weight attached to his foot. In a day or two a friend came in to see him and gave us one of your pamphlets. We immediately ordered Nature's Creation. We began using it November 5th, and almost at once we could see results. We soon took him off the frame (though kept him off his feet) and ignored our doctor's instructions, but kept up our treatment of Nature's Creation. December 15th we took him to Staunton, Virginia, for X-ray and another examination. Our doctor was greatly surprised at his recovery, remarking that it was wonderful and that he never expected to see our boy that well again. The X-ray showed the joint almost entirely healed. Last of December we let him on his feet again, and for a short while he limped slightly, but now romps and plays continuously as though nothing had ever happened to him. He is now beginning his third bottle of medicine, and ere this is gone we expect him to be entirely well again. He sleeps well, eats heartily and seems his former self, all due to Nature's Creation, which we cheerfully recommend to all tubercular sufferers. Ever wishing success to Nature's Creation, we are, yours very respectfully, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Fitch, Waynesboro, Virginia, January 31, 1912." On August 7th, 1912, seven months after he wrote the above, Mr. E. K. Fitch wrote: "I am glad to report that our son is entirely well as far as we can see. It's a pleasure to always recommend Nature's Creation and hardly a day passes that I do not talk or discuss it with some one." Valuable booklet containing full information regarding the use of Nature's Creation in the treatment of tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as weak lungs, bronchitis, impure blood, run-down system and asthma, will be sent free of all charges. This booklet also contains photos and testimonials from local parties. Address M. L. Haymann, 417 State Life Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

Wedding Bells.

Miss Mary C. Belknap, the well-known settlement worker of Cleveland, said in a suffrage debate:

"Oh, that is not an argument—that is a prophecy, a prophecy that woman, given the vote, wouldn't know how to use it."

"Now it's my opinion that the men who think that are as badly in the dark about women as Jenks was about the widowed stenographer."

"Jenks, you know, got to taking a young and pretty stenographer out to lunch, and to matinees, and to concerts; and when any one asked him about her, he'd smile and say:

"Oh, another conquest."

"Jenks, you see, thought he'd made a conquest; but the widow, standing beside Jenks a month later at the altar—the widow knew she'd made an annexation."

Willed His Ashes to a Home.

J. Walter Ganz, of Vineland, N. J., formerly of New York, in his will requested his remains to be cremated and the ashes be given to the Brooklyn Home for Consumptives, to which institution he bequeathed $10,000. For years he lived the life of a recluse to save money for his cherished object. He was eighty-three years old.

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. F. B. Johnson and Co.

CASTRO'S DETENTION GIVES THEM PAUSE

Authorities Perplexed By Unusual Situation.

New York, Jan. 11.—For three hours yesterday, Cipriano Castro, whose specialty was dictating to Venezuela when he was not bossing revolutions, sojourning on Manhattan Island. When he returned to Ellis Island he was much discouraged.

Castro was brought before Judge Holt in the United States circuit court on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by George Gordon Battle. While Judge Holt announced at first that he would dismiss the writ and return General Castro to the custody of the government, he finally decided that he would make no decision until he made up his mind whether he had the jurisdiction to admit the Venezuelan ex-president to bail. Judge Holt seemed to think that even a detained immigrant should have the right to release on bail, but he said he would not decide the question at once.

Mr. Battle told Judge Holt that Castro had been illegally detained and had not been allowed to see counsel. District Attorney Wise protested that Judge Holt had no jurisdiction; that he would be taking away from the immigration authorities the power they had over the admission of immigrants. Judge Holt told Mr. Battle and Mr. Wise each to submit a memorandum and he would decide later. Mr. Wise told Judge Holt that the immigration authorities were ready to go on with the hearing in Castro's case as soon as there was a decision on the writ.

Head of Jersey Board of Children's Guardians Araigns Idle Rich Mothers.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 11.—Those who go to Florida resorts and leave their children with nurses and governesses months at a time are worse than mothers who are poverty-stricken, according to Mrs. Caroline B. Alexander, president of the New Jersey state board of children's guardians, who has just sent to Governor Wilson her annual report.

"I have known of many deserting mothers in my time," Mrs. Alexander said, "but they belong to the so-called upper classes—mothers who go to Palm Beach for months at a time and leave their children to the care of nurses and governesses. These are the real deserters. Seldom is there such foolishness among the poorer classes, and it is among the proper classes, as we all know, that the wives fulfill their maternal obligations. When the average rich woman has no children it is almost invariably because of her vanity and selfishness."

THE DE LUXE BOOK SWINDLE

Further Indictments Have Been Returned and Arrests Made in Connection With the Schemes of a Gang Which Has Been Cleaning Up Millions by Working on the Credulity of Wealthy Victims.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—William Young, Conn Humes and James Plunkett, publishers and book brokers, and Edward J. McArdle, a lawyer, all of Chicago, were arrested here, and William Beer, for many years head of the Howard Memorial library in New Orleans, was arrested at New Orleans, about the same time, after the federal grand jury which has been investigating the de luxe book-selling activities of the Anglo-American Authors' association, handed down six new indictments.

The prisoners are charged by the federal authorities with selling A. M. Livingston, a wealthy and enthusiastic collector of Saratoga Springs, for $62,000, a so-called collection of very rare Americana supposed to be worth about a quarter of a million of dollars, which, it is charged, turned out to include old seed catalogues, discarded almanacs and agricultural, geological and survey reports.

Others arrested under the new indictments are A. Glenn Farmer and W. P. Sherman of Syracuse. Farmer had been previously indicted, as had his father, J. J. Farmer, Colonel Bill Hartley and eight others. Mr. Livingston has invested, so it is estimated, about $250,000 altogether in "editions de luxe" and other Farmer book schemes.

THREE HAVE BEEN INDICTED

Action Following Confession of One of South Bend Gang.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 11.—William Milley of Indianapolis; Albert Peverett of South Bend, and William Behrman of Cleveland, O., have been indicted by the grand jury in Bowling Green, O., as a result of Indianapolis Billy's confession, for the robbing of the Munn bank at Portage, O., of $4,200. Milley was the leader of the gang, but was the first of the alleged egg-men to confess after they had been arrested. Kirk H. Brown, a Toledo saloon keeper, also was indicted for complicity in the safe-blowing. He is supposed to have been the chauffeur who drove the other men to the Portage bank the night of the robbery. Two secret indictments were also returned, which are said to be for others supposed to have had a part in the robbery of the bank.

Honan Sees No Ground For Prosecuting W. H. Whittaker.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Charges against W. H. Whittaker, formerly superintendent of the Indiana reformatory, in which it was declared by the state board of accounts that his books showed "constructive discrepancies" approximating a total of $49,000, probably will not be aired in court, according to Attorney General Honan, in whose hands the report now lies.

Mr. Honan, after a preliminary investigation of the report and a conference with Mr. Whittaker and his attorney, said he believed the state had received value for every cent of the amount spent by the former official. He said he could see no place to begin a prosecution against Mr. Whittaker, and that such a prosecution would be manifestly unfair to him.

HAS GOOD CHANCE TO LIVE

Twenty-Eight-Ounce Baby Being Nourished in an Incubator.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—Swathed in absorbent cotton, saturated in olive oil, a baby girl which arrived at the home of John and Cella Lape, is making a fight for life in an infant incubator at the Home hospital. The child weighed at birth twenty-eight ounces, and is the smallest child ever born in this city. She is perfectly formed and vigorous, and the family physician says she will probably live. The infant is kept alive on sugared water. The child is breathing regularly, and the doctor said it had a good chance to live.

Coroner Orders Investigation.
Frankfort, Ind., Jan. 11.—Guffy Thomas was shot and killed at the home of his sister, Mrs. Anna Cates. A revolver was found lying under the right arm. It is said that no powder burns showed. Mrs. Cates says she heard two shots fired, but the officers were unable to find trace of only one bullet. Though Thomas is supposed to have committed suicide, the coroner has ordered an investigation.

Rev. Mr. White, First Presbyterian pastor of Indiana University, addressed the high school Monday morning during the chapel hour. In his address Mr. White told the story of David and Goliath, how David had picked up five stones from the brook in order to kill Goliath. These five stones, Mr. White said, represented five things which make ideal men and women, namely: truth, purity, self-control, earnestness and faith. Mr. White made clear these five qualities with fine illustrations. Before closing, he impressed the students that now, while they are in high school, is the time for them to cultivate these five qualities.

PERSONALS.

Frances Neutzenheller was absent Monday and Tuesday.

Marie Newhouse was absent Monday and Tuesday.

Mildred Stewart was absent Tuesday.

Hattie Ellison was absent Monday morning.

Hugh Gore was absent Monday.

John Rosencrance was absent Monday.

Byron Newhouse was absent Monday.

Salome Schrichte has been absent the entire week.

Harry Green was absent Wednesday afternoon.

Roy Beaver was a visitor of high school Monday and Wednesday.

BASKET BALL.

Another inter-class schedule has been arranged and is now being played.

The varsity has been having hard practice this week, the first since the season opened.

In the past games the team has shown that it has not been lack of material that has caused them to lose, but of coaching and practice.

Rushville lost to Shelbyville Friday by a score of 45 to 13.

The game was fast and rough and the result of Shelbyville's constant practice could be seen in their team work and hard playing. Cameron played the best game for Rushville.

The lineup was as follows: Cameron, McDonald and Hinkle, forward; Webb (c) center; Roam, Griffin, and Shannahan guards.

"DEEP STUFF."

Don't be so curious next time.

Miss Robinette in B-3 English—"What is a sponging house?" Student—"A bath house."

Medicine.

Aviator's dose—One drop.

Mr. Wilson—"Do you ever use slang?"

Lester Coons—"Nit, my maw'd natcherly biff me one on the beak if I made a stab at any greasy dope like that."

Mr. Forry in B1 German, "She hurt himself."

Mr. Smelser in History B-4. "Where is Ghent." Pauline Felts "Why it is in Europe."

ORGANIZATION.

The Girls Glee Club met Wednesday evening after school for practice. They are now working on some difficult new music under the direction of Miss Scott.

The H. S. orchestra will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Marie Clawson, 325 West Seventh street.

SHELBYVILLE IS AN EASY WINNER

Visitors Have Little Difficulty in Taking Game From Rushville
High School Team.

FINAL SCORE IS 45 TO 13

The Shelbyville high school basketball team won an easy victory last night, defeating the local team 45 to 13. The visitors outclassed the Rushville team from start to finish and at no time was there a chance of Rushville winning. The Shelby-ville team is a contender for the state championship and the showing of the locals was very creditable considering the opposition.

Shelbyville gained an early lead and the first half ended 25 to 6.
Rushville made only one field goal during the entire game and that came near the close of the contest. The line up and summary:

Shelbyville	Rushville.
Weimer.	Cameron.
Markley	Forward.
Auman.	Forward.
Deitzer	Center.
Porter.	Guard.
	Griffin.

Field goals—Weimer 4, Markley 8,
Auman 6, McDonald. Foul goals—
Griffin 11, Auman 9. Referee Abbett of Franklin.

MILROY WON BOTH GAMES

Eurekas and Second High School
Team Were Winners.

The Milroy basketball teams won a double victory last night, the Eurekas defeating the Indianapolis Business University, 17 to 11 and the second high school team winning from the Sandusky team 19 to 7.
The game between the Eurekas and the Business college team was a battle from start to finish with Milroy Independents having a shade the best of the argument. The Eurekas played their best game in the final half. A large crowd witnessed both contests.
